Two of three skeletons of children in Building 5
In this crypt lie the only marked remains of victims of the Earthquake that devastated Port Royal in 1692. Interred here are three children found under the walls of a brick building destroyed in the disaster. They were recovered by underwater archaeologists from Texas A&M University.

May they rest in peace.

Erected October, 1992